

Oppose Red U. N. Attempt

Ike And Dulles Tell British They'll Oppose China's Seating

WASHINGTON, July 3 (P) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles told British leaders this week that the United States will do everything within its power to block Red China's bid for membership in the United Nations—an issue that threatens to split the Western alliance at the fall U. N. session.

British Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden indicated that Britain will do what it can to avert a showdown on the Red China problem this year. But they warned there may be very strong Allied and home front political pressures on the British government to support the Red bid actively.

Vice President Nixon, speaking at Somerset, Pa., and Adlai Stevenson, talking to newsmen in Portland, Ore., both said Communist China cannot qualify to be a U. N. member because it is not dedicated to peace.

These points, based on information available from diplomatic sources about the secret British-American talks, strongly indicate the policy lines which the two great Western allies are following on the issue.

More and more officials are wondering whether the Red China membership fight does not present a far graver threat to the anti-Communist alliance of the Western powers in Europe than did the British-American dispute over formation of a united front in Southeast Asia.

Senate Republican leader Knowland said this week he would resign his position and fight for American withdrawal from the U. N. if Red China is admitted.

Democratic leader Johnson in a follow-up speech generally supported Knowland's opposition. Knowland said today that he believes Congress is ready to write legislation providing that, if Red China gets a U. N. seat, the United States shall automatically withdraw from the international organization, and cease to help finance it.

"In my judgment," he said, "there are ample votes in both houses to do that. This is one fight we are not going to lose."

Knowland said he is fully convinced that Eisenhower and Dulles will make every effort to prevent U. N. recognition of Red China. But he said he had no assurance that the administration would be willing to withdraw from the organization if American wishes were overridden. In that respect, he said he believes Congress is willing to go further than the administration.

Burglary Attempts Become Common, 18 in Last 2 Months

Actual Entries Are Few But Seem Gaining In Number; Chief Neighbors Attributes Most of It to Vandalism by Juveniles

Sedalia stores and other business buildings have been plagued recently with a series of attempted, and sometimes successful, break-ins. In the past two months, there have been 18 of them.

Most of them were only attempts, and even the successful thieves did not get away with much. The possibility of bigger losses remains.

Police reports for the past two months show the first attempt was made on May 5, when Odendahl's Woodwork Co., 2505 West Broadway, was entered, apparently in a try to get to the Skyline Liquor Store at the front of the building. Nothing was taken.

Two nights later, thieves broke into Pete's Pig Pen, 420 South Osage, and made off with two cases of beer and $3 in pennies.

On the night of the 8th, someone entered the home of C. C. DeLozier, 2505 West Broadway, who operates the Lat Shop at 705 South Ohio, and took between $3 and $4 in pennies that DeLozier had collected in tax money and placed in a coffee can.

The next night a window screen was cut at the John Miller Upholstery Co., 613 South Engineer, but the thief did not enter.

Two weeks later, on the night of the 24th, someone forced a window at the Vincent Motor Co., Main and Stewart, and stole $9.70 from the cash register.

The break-ins during June began with an attempt at Garst's Drive-In on the 14th, but no entry was made.

Two days later someone cut the screen and broke a window at the Evers Grocery, 323 North Engineer, but did not enter.

Duff's Variety Store, 413 South Engineer, reported an attempt the night of the 17th. A window was broken out but no one entered.

A week later three attempts were made in one night. A window was broken out at the Royal Crown Bottling Co., 1321 South Grand, on the night of the 24th, but no entry was gained. The rear door of the Katzinger Salvage Co., Main and Mill, was forced open and the place ransacked, but nothing was taken.

Thieves also broke into the Drive-In Theatre snack bar by breaking the door glass and dripping off a lock. It may have been the work of juveniles, since the haul consisted of two cigars and four bottles of chocolate milk.

On the night of the 26th, Potter's Grocery, 2118 East Broadway, was broken into and $29.91 taken from the cash register. A ten-year-old boy was apprehended, and he returned the money. No charges were filed.

The next night two more places reported attempted entries, but no one was taken. Maude's Cafe, Broadway and Limit, and Hari's Tavern, 701 West Main.

On the night of the 28th, a screen door was ripped out at the Esser Liquor Store, 914 South Limit, but nothing was taken.

Another attempt on Pete's Pig Pen, 420 South Osage, was made the following night, but no entry was gained. That same night a window was broken out at the Cities Service Station, Broadway and Hancock, but nothing was taken.

On the night of the 30th, thieves gained entry to the Southside Market, 1603 South Ingram, by prying open a door to the warehouse and then forcing another door to the main part of the store. They got away with $1 in nickels, $4.50 in pennies, five pounds of sugar, eight pounds of coffee, $3.50 worth of bacon, sausage and cheese, and three cartons of cigarettes.

The same night someone entered the home of Mrs. Blanche Faust, 319 East 14th, by removing the screen in the bathroom window and stole a wrist watch and, oddly enough, a towel rack.

Last Wednesday night the burglaries went on. The Kinder Automotive Service, 713 West Main, reported a window broken out but nothing taken. The thieves were luckier when they entered the kitchen behind the St. Joseph Catholic Church, 312 West Johnson, where they stole $15 in cash.

They got in by breaking the door knob of the back door.

Henri's Tavern was visited again, a screen door being broken open, but nothing was taken.

The house burglar was busy again, too, that night. Air Force Sgt. Robert Myrant, SAFB, who lives at 608 South Grand, said someone removed the screen to his kitchen window and tried unsuccessfully to pry open the window itself.

The list keeps growing day by day, apparently increasing.

There have also been a great number of doors and windows found open at many business places, with nothing disturbed inside. In the past two months there have been 23 such cases reported to the police or found by the police.

Police Chief Edgar Neighbors expressed an opinion Thursday that most of the cases where windows or screens have been found broken seem to be the work of juveniles, because the damage stops there and little is taken inside. He said that there seems to be little evidence that adult thievery of any serious nature is going on now.

Phone Walkout Settled

CIO Installers And Job Clerks Receive Wage Boosts In Their Respective Groups

NEW YORK, July 3 (P) — A two-day strike of 17,000 telephone equipment installers in 44 states ended today with the signing of a one-year contract between the Western Electric Co. and the CIO Communications Workers of America.

The contract, still to be ratified by the union membership, provides 5 to 7 cent-an-hour pay increases for installers and a $1.50-a-week raise to about 400 job clerks.

The settlement came when both sides gave ground. The company had offered a 4 to 7-cent-an-hour increase, and added a penny to that. The union had asked 6 to 8 cents an hour.

The union opposed the company's proposal to add five new base locations, from which telephone equipment installers work, on the ground that some workers would be forced to give up their homes and move to new areas.

The settlement provided for four new locations, at West Palm Beach and Pensacola, Fla., Saginaw, Mich., and Lake Charles, La.

This brought to 115 the number of base locations maintained across the country by Western Electric, the manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System.

The union also demanded reduction of a differential in pay scales between the Northeast, Midwest and Far West areas and the South, Southwest and Rocky Mountain areas.

Joseph E. Dunn, national director of the installers, said the contract reduced this differential by 1 cent. It stands now at 12 cents at the top pay rate.

Oklahomans Vote Under Watchful Eye Of Troops

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 3 (P) — With a backdrop of National Guard troops in five counties, Oklahomans will vote Tuesday in the state's primary election, highlighted by races for the U. S. Senate and governor.

Gov. Johnston Murray declared martial law yesterday for five eastern counties where a vote-selling scandal has broken open. Six persons have been charged with buying or selling absentee ballots. The counties are Pittsburg, Adair, Sequoyah, Cherokee and LeFlore.

A request for temporary injunction was filed today against many of the voters in the counties. The law supervision of precincts in LeFlore County Tuesday.

"I can't conceive of a judge attempting to stop the police power of the governor," Murray said, "but in case he does, we'll appeal immediately to the State Supreme Court. By the time action is taken, the election will be over."

Interest has centered on the governor's race with 16 Democratic candidates, including Mrs. Willie E. Murray, the governor's wife, and a hot U. S. Senate fight between Sen. Robert S. Kerr and former Gov. Roy J. Turner, both Democrats and oil millionaires.

It will be the first martial law election day in Oklahoma history. Oklahomans also will vote in five congressional races and contests for all 47 federal state offices.

Constitutional amendments to liberalize the state escheat law and to provide state-financed farm loans for veterans also are on the ballot.

There has been little activity in the Republican races.

As In 1776, The Declaration Stands For American Liberty

WASHINGTON, July 3 (P) — "There!" John Hancock is said to have exclaimed as he affixed his bold, yet artistic signature to the Declaration of Independence. "I guess King George will be able to read that!"

But that was long ago, and today the aged document peers out from its special glass-covered case at the national archives—not much remains legible to the naked eye.

"John Hancock" still stands out among the 56 names on the faded parchment, but it's mostly the heavy sweep of the "J" and strong lines on part of the "H" and "K" that show where the signature is. Much of the other writing can't be made out.

Though the ink may be fading, after 178 years, the words that were written there endure as clear and strong as ever.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

That's what John Adams was talking about July 2 when he celebrated that day would be "celebrated, by succeeding generations, as the great anniversary festival."

Rebels Orientate Victory By Hanging Criminal Reds

GUATEMALA, July 3 (P)—The leaders of the anti-Communist colonels' regime flew here in triumph today to press their campaign against criminal Reds with armed force and an already working firing squad.

An ousted Communist judge, accused of conniving in assassinations of anti-Reds last year, was the first victim of the firing squad.

The Arbenz regime judge, a Honduran lawyer named Romeo Reyes Flores, was executed in the capital prison yard yesterday.

The execution was announced by spokesmen for the ruling junta before its leaders—Col. Carlos Castillo Armas and Col. Eliezer H. Monzon—made a delayed entry into the capital city which was decked with blue and white flags and banners.

Castillo, in a victory speech to thousands massed in Guatemala's main plaza, promised "true justice for workers and all sons of this blessed land."

Monzon, who will head the junta for 15 days until new elections are called, was with Castillo, as were other members of the junta.

Construction Man Killed In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, July 3 (P)—A construction worker was killed today when crushed beneath a tractor high-loader in Johnson County.

Dr. David S. Long Jr., county coroner, said papers in the man's pocket bore the name of John Walter Fisher, Kansas City, Mo.

The victim, working the site of a dam, was driving the tractor up a steep incline when the machine overturned.

ST. LOUIS, July 3 (P)—Henry Admatha, 70-year-old retired farmer was struck and killed today by a car while crossing Lindbergh Boulevard near his home in Meacham Park near suburban Kirkwood.

Joseph Boston of Kirkwood told sheriff's deputies that Admatha darted in front of his car and he was unable to avoid the accident.

Admatha was driving a 1951 Ford sedan. The car was traveling east on Lindbergh Boulevard when it struck Admatha.

TB Topics

In the world, the severity of tuberculosis is almost beyond comprehension. It is estimated that at least 50 million people have active cases of TB.

Deaths are estimated at between 3 and 5 million annually. How close this ties in with America was shown when a number of American GIs, who had been prisoners of war in China, returned home as TB sufferers.

It was "as certain as sunrise," recounts Historian A. J. Beveridge in "Sources of the Declaration of Independence," that the American Colonies would formally seek to sever the British yoke. Americans already had died at Lexington, the English had been stopped at Concord and driven back to Boston.

George Washington had taken command of what forces the colonists could muster. Heavy British reinforcements had landed and a great British fleet been sent over. So it was only natural that the Continental Congress, meeting at Philadelphia, resolve "that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states."

Actually, this resolution adopted July 2, 1776, was the formal act of independence. The declaration, agreed to two days later, was a proclamation to the world on the reasons for this act.

That's what John Adams was talking about July 2 when he celebrated that day would be "celebrated, by succeeding generations, as the great anniversary festival."

Charge 3 Men With Smithton Bank Theft

Two Sedalians And Marshall Man Face Trial

FBI Finds $2,028 In Same Sack Used As Money Was Taken

Apprehension of the three Negroes, charged with being implicated in the holdup of the Smithton Bank last Wednesday noon, was announced late Friday night by Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick. The trio was arraigned before United States Commissioner Joe L. Kendrick, Jefferson City, Saturday morning and bound over to the federal district court for trial. All three pleaded innocent at the arraignment.

The trio, Tom Thurston, 57, of 300 North Osage, LeRoy Cannon, 52, of 513 North Montauk, and Arthur Jackson, route 1, Marshall, were returned to the Cole County Jail on failure to meet $10,000 bond each, set by Commissioner Kendrick.

Arraignment of the three men came shortly after finding of $2,028.88 by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents about 3 a. m. Saturday in a car in an old garage adjacent to Thurston's home. As soon as the money was located, the agents checked the money in various denominations and found it came out the same to the penny, as reported by the bank after a check of missing funds. None of the money apparently was touched after it was taken from the bank.

The FBI agents left immediately for Jefferson City to arrange to take further statements from the three men and to have them taken before the Commissioner Saturday morning.

Commissioner Kendrick said if the three men did not plead guilty while awaiting trial they probably will come up for a full hearing in federal district court in Jefferson City during the October term.

Two of the three, Jackson and Cannon, seemed ready at arraignment to admit their guilt and get started serving their sentences.

But Thurston, the talkative member of the group, wanted to know the prospects. Kendrick said he couldn't tell them what would happen but he explained their rights and offered to get an attorney for them if they wanted.

While they waited among themselves, Kendrick called an attorney for them. The lawyer, Joe Nacy, talked to the accused prisoners about their rights.

Thurston said he had never got into anything like this before and "it's a kind of sit or wait position."

At the time of the arraignment the men didn't know the money had been recovered.

Barrick, in announcing the arrest of the trio, gave credit to Sheriff John F. Taylor, Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors, Sgt. Ernest W. Van Winkle of the State Highway Patrol, and the members of their departments.

At the time of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, all who worked day and night since Wednesday noon in running down various leads and information.

The big break in the case occurred Thursday night when two young Sedalia police officers observed a suspicious car parked among machinery behind the Harwood Co. of West Main.

With no other officers, they picked up Jackson for investigation.

It was 5:40 p. m. Thursday that Washington Shirley, 510 West Pettis, notified the police his license plate had been stolen from his automobile sometime during the day, or past few days. The license number was X90-862. At 10:10 p. m. Officers Lloyd Perdon and George Bunch in a patrol car were cruising down the alley between Main and Second streets when they noted an old Chevrolet backed in among implement machinery as if someone was endeavoring to hide it.

A check revealed the stolen license and a call was sent for Night Chief Cliff Gardner who with Officer Jim Clifford went on the case. Jackson was found near the car and immediately said he was out of gasoline and had pushed the car where it was found. This appeared to have been some task for a lone man so Jackson was talked to some more. Bunch, recalling a man answering Jackson's description had been with another Negro (who bought gas) on East Highway 50, thought it best he be questioned further.

Then Friday an all day session with Jackson began. Chief Neighbors, Sgt. Van Winkle, the agents of the FBI began questioning him. An incident which Jackson was reported to have with some individual was brought out by one of the FBI agents and it was then he displayed signs of weakening. Continued talks with Jackson, with the police, state patrol and FBI agents taking turns, finally brought an oral statement from Jackson implicating himself, Cannon and Thurston.

During the day the officers kept Officer Tom Moffitt checking leads (while Jackson talked) and bringing in other persons to give information as to when and where they saw Jackson, Cannon and Thurston on Wednesday.

When the old Chevrolet car of Jackson was found, the officers remarked, "it was loaded for a (Please turn to Page 2, Column 1)"

County Court OK's Contract For Elevator

Cramer and Schrader Will Construct Shaft, Otis Will Put in Cage

A contract has been entered into by the Pettis County Court and the Cramer and Schrader Construction Co. for the installation of an elevator in the courthouse. Construction is expected to be completed sometime around Nov. 1.

The elevator will be installed on a cost-plus basis, since the court has agreed that the work to be done is of such a nature that no accurate, reliable estimate of the cost involved can be determined in advance, according to J. V. Kesterson, presiding judge.

Cramer and Schrader will construct the shaft to the south of the stairs on the east side of the building. It will begin on the first floor in the corner behind the storage closet of the Boonlick Regional Library office and will cut up through the men's rest rooms on the second and third floors. The contractors will also make all necessary changes in plumbing and any other work needed to permit the installation of the shaft.

The shaft itself has been designed by Arthur Schwarz and Associate, Sedalia architects. In consultation with the Otis Elevator Co. of Kansas City, which will install the elevator once the shaft is complete.

Otis will install the elevator at a cost of $12,886. Cramer and Schrader will pay for this, for furnishing and putting in the necessary steel, cutting the hole, changing the plumbing and all other work entailed. They in turn will receive "cost plus 10 per cent, including insurance, social security, and so forth."

The cage will have a capacity of eight persons and may be run either by hand or automatically. Safety doors will be installed on each floor to prevent any injuries by people falling into the shaft. The cage features the latest safety devices.

Patrons will enter the elevator on the first and second floors through hallways, since the shaft will be in line with the hall wall on the third floor. This sits back from the hall walls on the first and second floors and gave the contractors considerable trouble in their attempts to find the best location for the shaft.

Old-timers had said that the building, dedicated in 1925, contained a space especially designed for a future elevator. The court finally obtained a copy of the original plans and learned that this was not true. It then asked the architects to design a shaft.

Fire Destroys House Of Versailles Woman

The home of Mrs. L. A. Huffman, Versailles, was almost totally destroyed Saturday afternoon by a fire of undetermined origin. Mrs. Huffman and her son and his family were inside when the fire began, but were warned by a neighbor and escaped uninjured.

The neighbor, Mrs. Hattie Hughes, saw the Huffman roof ablaze at about 12:30 p. m. and gave the warning. The fire department was called and responded immediately, but the wood shingle roof burned like paper and the only thing left to do was to keep the fire from spreading to nearby homes.

The roof caved in and only part of the frame was left standing. Everything inside was ruined by fire, smoke and water. Insurance covered some of the loss.

With Mrs. Huffman at the time of the fire were her son, Joe, his wife and children, who were visiting her over the weekend of the Fourth.

Congress Investigates Infiltration

WASHINGTON, July 3 — A new investigation of alleged Communist infiltration of the Army, this time dealing with efforts to indoctrinate GIs in World War II, was announced today by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) said the hearings, starting Tuesday, will mark a new phase of the subcommittee inquiry begun last year into the "pattern" of Communist infiltration of the government.

"This and subsequent hearings," he said in a statement, "are expected to show how Communists, working behind the scenes, used the Army Information & Education Service in an effort to indoctrinate 8,000,000 GIs who are now back in civilian life."

Jenner said the subcommittee previously had received testimony indicating that "the Communist organization had a powerful interest in the information and education sections of the armed services" and that its members were under instructions "to penetrate those activities."

During the recent televised probe of the McCarthy-Army row, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, said he had received reports of propaganda material being used in Army training and indoctrination courses.

Testimony at the hearings was that McCarthy had suggested that Pvt. G. David Schine, a former unpaid consultant of the subcommittee, might be assigned after his basic training to checking on such materials.

A spokesman for the Jenner subcommittee said, however, that its probe grew out of testimony received during its investigation of communism in education and other inquiries it has conducted.

It touched on the subject briefly in its report a year ago on "Interlocking Subversion in Government Departments," saying that some Fifth Amendment witnesses it had heard "were engaged in certain, key special services for the armed forces" during World War II.

Jenner said the Internal Security subcommittee, in its forthcoming hearings, "will seek to determine the Communist pattern in this undertaking as a guide to what the government must guard against in any future war."

Bank Robbery

trip." During the question session, Jackson, the officer who reported after his oral admission of the bank robbery, remarked he was planning on leaving for the "south."

Jackson, according to the officers, admitted the robbery and told of how he and Cannon had entered the bank, unmasked, and talked with Cashier John S. Daniels, 68, at the window cage. He told of Mrs. William Ripley, 22, bookkeeper, walking into the bank and going back through a door leading in back of the counter.

Jackson, it was reported, said he followed her around and ordered the money put into the sack Jackson, it was said, also admitted striking Daniels on the back of the head and getting the money. He was slow in getting the money, he was slow in getting the money, he was slow in getting the money.

The Negro then told the officers that he and Cannon went out and got into Thurston's Mercury sedan, drove east on the street to the road which turned north, west north to Highway 50, thence west to the west road entrance to Smithton, turned north on the gravel road and after a short distance stopped and Jackson got his car, which had been parked on the road.

Then Thurston drove fast with Jackson following and, at the Boonville road, Thurston succeeded in making the turn. Jackson went off the road and went down a 15-foot embankment. In the confusion, Jackson, after a proper turn and finally, after a lengthy drive, ended up on North Highway 63.

Jackson said he gave the money and sack to Thurston and that was the last time he saw it. He said he didn't know where it was now. (That was at the time he was being questioned.)

Cannon and Thurston were picked up Wednesday afternoon by State Trooper Pete Stohr as they were driving toward Sedalia on the Boonville road. They were held over night and released Thursday morning after being questioned by all the law enforcement officers.

Thurston was picked up later in the morning, after a search of his home revealed a saved off shotgun which had not been registered, a violation of the federal law. He was then taken to Jefferson City to answer to that charge. In the meantime, the Jackson statement was received and Cannon was picked up Friday night. Neither he nor Thurston had been questioned up to the time of their arraignment Saturday morning.

Agents of the FBI were very complimentary in their remarks over the working cooperation between the sheriff, police, state highway patrol and their own organization. "Everybody worked hard, fast, and steady in running down every lead, all of which went to wind up this case quickly," one remarked.

Association Sees Unemployment Double Next Year

WASHINGTON, July 3 — The National Planning Assn. said today unemployment will nearly double over the next year at the present rate of economic activity.

It urged the government to consider action to end "inexcusable" idleness of part of the nation's gigantic production machine.

The report said that if the economy runs along over the next 12 months at about the present pace a 25-billion-dollar gap will develop between national production and the level of production that would provide full employment.

The study group, a private association of businessmen, labor union leaders, economists and bankers, said it assumed the administration is now re-examining defense needs.

"If this re-examination shows as we anticipate," the association said, that national security calls for bigger defense spending, "a special session of Congress in the fall could consider legislative authorizations and supplemental appropriations for the additional measures."

Three People Killed At Tavern Brawl

KANSAS CITY, July 3 (AP)—Two women and a man died today in a burst of gunfire police said was triggered by the angry husband of one of the women.

The triple slaying, the climax of a violent quarrel between the couple in a tour of taverns, took place in a motor car occupied by the three victims.

They were: Mrs. Marcell Levy, 25, whose husband was said by police to have admitted the crime; Donald Knepp, 29, Mrs. Levy's brother and Mrs. Julia Ann Friend, 20; all of Kansas City.

Mrs. Friend, estranged from her husband, was the mother of two small boys, 1 and 2 years old.

Mrs. Levy was shot three times in the chest and once between the eyes. Knepp had been shot twice in the forehead, and Mrs. Friend once in the forehead.

A yellow flower still remained in Mrs. Levy's hair when police arrived at the scene of the slaying, not far from the downtown section.

Her husband, Carl Raymond Levy, 36, a plumber, was said at first by Lieut. Haupt of the police department to have admitted the shooting, claiming he was being threatened.

However, in a statement later, when asked if there was any doubt he had killed the trio, he said: "I don't remember doing it, but they're dead and the way things look, I could have."

Levy, police said, got into an argument with his wife at a tavern where the quartet was drinking. He said she threatened him with a knife.

Later, he said, he left the group and went to the Levy home, awaiting the return of the other three.

When they returned home, Levy said, he obtained his .22 caliber target pistol and a handful of shells.

He said the events that followed were hazy in his memory, that he couldn't recall firing any shots.

But his former wife, Mrs. Dorothy Levy, said he came to her home about 5 a.m. upset. "I think I have just killed Dolly and her brother and another girl," she quoted him as saying.

It was while he was at his former wife's home that police surrounded the house, and two officers took Levy into custody in the bathroom.

Police said his pockets were filled with 22 caliber shells and the target pistol, fully loaded, was in his pocket. But he made no effort to use the weapon.

Still unaware that his mother had been slain, 2-year-old Ben Friend Jr. played happily today outside the apartment house where Mrs. Friend lived with her sister, Golda Lee Hill, 15.

The other child, Larry Ray Friend, 1, had been a patient at Mercy Hospital since his birth.

The boys' young aunt, Golda, said she had no money and no relatives who would care for them.

"Dad's dead," she said, "and my mother lives down in Lutie, Mo. She can't take care of us, and there's no one else."

As Golda watched the boy, she said: "My sister told me if anything ever happened to her, she wanted me to have the boy. I'll do anything in my power to keep him."

Holiday Deaths Have Good Start With 112 Dead

By The Associated Press
Jammed highways and fair weather which sent millions to beaches led to a rapidly climbing July 4th weekend holiday death toll Saturday.

With the weekend less than one-third over, the fatality list stood at 112. Of that total traffic mishaps killed 72, while 19 drowned and 21 lost their lives from miscellaneous causes.

Grimmest of the highway mishaps was that near Mahwah, N. J. There, four of five occupants of a car starting out for a July 4th holiday were killed in a collision with an empty bus. The smash occurred about one mile south of the New York state line.

The National Safety Council estimated that 430 persons would be killed in car accidents during the 78-hour period. The council also expected that 40 million cars would be on their highways for the holiday.

Violent deaths totaled 434 in the two-day July 4th holiday last year. Of the total, 262 died in traffic accidents, 121 drowned, one was a victim of fireworks, and 50 died from miscellaneous causes.

An Associated Press non-holiday survey from 6 p.m. Friday, June 18, to midnight Monday, June 21, the same span as the Independence Day period, showed 430 violent deaths. These included 225 traffic, 135 drownings and 70 from miscellaneous causes.

The record July 4th three-day holiday period death toll was 676 in 1949. The highest July 4th three-day traffic death toll was 366 in 1952.

The death toll by states—traffic drowning and miscellaneous included: Colorado 0 0 2, Illinois 3 0 3, Iowa 1 2 0, Missouri 1 0 1, Oklahoma 2 1 0, Tennessee 2 1 1.

Emory Bolton And Family Going To Newfoundland
Emory Eugene Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bolton, Knob Noster, is headed again for Newfoundland, and to SK 1 Bolton that is a mighty important place.

It was in January, 1949, that he first was sent to Newfoundland by the U.S. Navy, and after he was there about a year he met a girl by the name of Shirley Ruth Tilly. Between that time and the time he returned to the United States in 1951 he had changed Shirley Ruth's name from Tilly to Bolton, and brought her back with him.

He has been stationed at Green Cove Springs, Fla., and there are now two youngsters, a little girl, Linda, three years old, and Emory Eugene Jr., who is called "Buddy," one year old.

It was time for Gene's orders to be changed and he was, he thought, going to sea, but when his orders came he could hardly believe it. He was being transferred from Green Cove Springs to Newfoundland. At first Gene thought somebody was kidding him, that it just couldn't really happen, but it did. So Gene, his wife and kiddies came to Knob Noster a week ago and he left Friday morning for Newfoundland.

For the next three months Shirley Ruth and the children will stay with his parents, and then they, too, are going to Newfoundland.

Shirley Ruth is so thrilled she can hardly wait. After all, while she likes America fine, she is mighty happy to go back to Newfoundland. That is where her people are and it has been a long time, a whole three years, since she has seen them.

Jefferson City Begins Long-Range Plans In Improvement Program for a 'New Look'

A long-range city improvement program, designed to give Missouri a greatly improved capital city within the next quarter-century, has been proposed by the Greater Jefferson City committee, reports Lew Larkin in the Kansas City Star.

The program was drawn up after exhaustive study by Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis, nationally known city planning authorities, and submitted to the city council by the Greater Jefferson City committee which is composed of leading businessmen and civic leaders. It envisages an increase from the present 23,000 population (exclusive of the prison population), to about 37,000 by 1980, based on the present rate of increase and the national trend.

The city plan is tied in with hopes for improvements by the state and sees an increase in state employees working here from the present approximate 3,300 to 4,400. On the part of the state, the plan calls for the razing of the former post office and federal building here, which was used for many years by the state public service commission and is now used by the national guard.

"This building is not suited to modern office use, having very high ceilings and much waste space," the report stated. The razing of the present 47-year-old Supreme Court building and construction of a new one also is recommended. This is the oldest state structure here.

The construction by the state of a building for the Conservation Commission and a multi-level parking lot at the northwest corner of Jefferson and Capitol streets also is recommended.

The plan recommends the construction of new elementary schools replacing the present Moreau Heights, Broadway and Park schools, and the enlargement of two others. Some of this work already has been started. This city is not unlike many others, in that the physical plants of the school system have fallen behind the rapidly increasing enrollments.

The plan also recommends enlarging the park system. There are only four parks — Washington, Memorial, McClung and Community — totaling 118 acres. Enlargements of these parks and acquisition of land for other parks, for a total of 447 acres, was recommended.

On the local-county level, the plan calls for a new city hall building to replace the present 64-year-old structure that was given to the city, a new Cole County courthouse to replace the 58-year-old building and a new library building.

"The present building now housing the combined Jefferson City and Cole County libraries is much too old, too small and too obsolete to serve the large community which looks to it for library needs," the report stated.

"The city has developed a busy and prosperous shopping center," the analysts report. "It is a compact area, with well-defined shopping streets. But in common with most cities, some of the area is ragged in appearance and facilities for parking are inadequate. As to the latter, the juxtaposition of the business district to centers of state employment makes the parking problem especially acute.

"Thus, one of the reasons that has made Jefferson City a successful trade center — that of a center of a network of highways — threatens its continued success. Not unlike many other cities, traffic is so congested and parking so difficult on busy days that trade is hampered. This has no small bearing on the city's economy.

"While retail trade is largely the result rather than the cause of growth and development, it is well to remember that as the number of establishments and the volume of business they do increases, employment increases and contributes to the general advance of the community. The city can ill afford to lose retail business—one of its most important economic activities."

Business leaders here depend for the bulk of their sales on state employees and the hundreds of salesmen and others who come in here weekly in connection with state business. The state Legislature also provides considerable business when it is in session.

The plan calls for a master traffic flow pattern to solve the present traffic congestion. Inadequate parking facilities downtown, narrow streets and the convergence of all streets onto the central business area are the present defects, the report states. The building by the state of the multi-level parking lot would tie in with this master plan.

The plan also criticizes the failure to develop real estate within the city, pointing out that 2,585 acres have been developed for some urban use while 3,500 acres, or more than 37 per cent of the corporate area, were vacant.

The construction of proper drainage channels to prevent the periodic flooding of a part of the city by Wear's creek would cost about $150,000, according to the report.

The plan also calls for a new zoning ordinance to provide for greater protection to residential areas, special treatment for apartment projects and better regulation of commercial and industrial areas.

On housing, the report is that "in value and cost the living units are above those of Missouri cities of comparable size." It finds very little overcrowding, but points out that obsolescence of residential structures will become a problem in the future.

Only in the last two years has a real residential building boom started. More than 200 homes were constructed last year and that many may be built this year. Prior to that time there was a shortage of family-size homes.

Garbage and trash collection here is on a voluntary basis. The plan recommends that the city take over the collection as a municipal service. There is no criticism, however, of the private firms now doing the collecting. A new fire station and an increase in the number of hospital beds at the two existing hospitals here also were recommended.

The plan does not estimate the state's share of the cost, which would run into several million dollars. The master traffic control plan would cost around $750,000 and the park project $200,000. The city's cost of the new library would be $450,000, and if the city and county went together on a combination city hall and county courthouse building, the city's share would be $300,000.

The school plan already is under way. Last year the voters approved two school bonds plans totaling $1,850,000. There is no estimate in the plan of the cost of municipal garbage collection or the other smaller projects.

Jefferson City is in good financial condition, although the income is no more than enough for current operations. Either bond issues or higher taxes is the answer to any comprehensive program of improvements outlined by the Bartholomew plan. The city has an assessed valuation exceeding 22 million dollars and it is estimated that this will increase to 26½ million by 1963.

The Bartholomew plan calls for expenditures of under 3 million dollars for the next ten years which would launch most of the projects in the overall recommendation. It can be done under the city's current bonding power. City fathers and civic leaders are currently debating the matter.

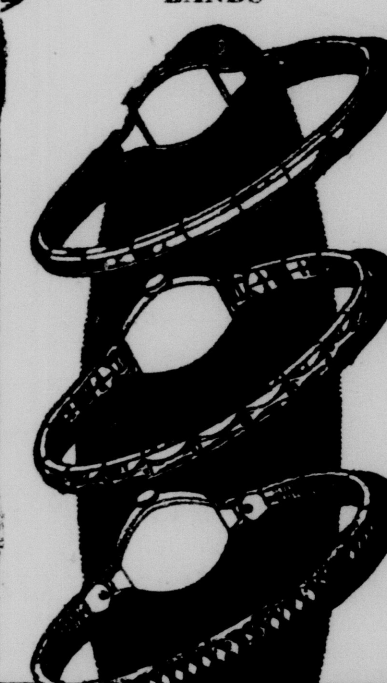

In the last two years considerable civic progress has been made. The 6-million-dollar Jefferson building, was completed and occupied eighteen months ago to relieve an overcrowding of state offices. The runways at the Memorial airport were lengthened recently to take heavier planes and the Ozarks airlines began regular service here two weeks ago.

A new $500,000 structure for the state division of employment security was completed last January and occupied. The new bridge over the Missouri river will be completed next year and replace the 55-year-old structure built for the horse-and-buggy era. A new $500,000 addition to the state highway department structure will be started soon.

If most of the ideas proposed are carried out, a "new look" will be provided this 132-year-old city which contains one of the most beautiful state government capitols in the nation, and is noted for its fine residential districts and a progressive civic spirit.

GOP National Committee Almost Chokes on Patronage Plum

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Juiciest nesting place in the federal government is generally considered the international joint commission which handles waterway problems between Canada and the United States; also the international boundary commission between Canada and the United States.

Duties are not arduous, the boundary isn't bothered by wars, members of the commissions draw $10,000 a year and get a cool, expense-paid summer trip to Canada every year.

However, the Republican national committee, eying these job plums, got its political wires so badly crossed that a Chicago lawyer was appointed to the wrong commission, then the Governor of Idaho was named prematurely to the job the lawyer was supposed to get.

The resulting mixup violated: 1. A 1909 treaty with Canada; 2. a presidential order dating back to 1873.

It all began when Republican mouths started watering for the patronage plum held by octogenarian A. O. Stanley, ex-senator from Kentucky, who was chairman of the international joint commission for the past 20 years.

Illinois' curly-haired Sen. Everett Dirksen, a backstage power at the GOP national committee proposed Chicago lawyer Samuel Golan for the post.

At this point, the committee got its first wire crossed and sent Golan's name to the White House to be named, not to the international joint commission, but the international boundary commission. This is a different commission altogether, having to do, not with Canadian-U.S. rivers and waterways, but marking and maintaining the Canadian-U.S. boundary.

Not only did the GOP committee pick the wrong commission, but there was no vacancy. Furthermore, a 1909 treaty with Canada specified that the post must go to a qualified engineer. A Chicago lawyer wouldn't do.

Buffalo Backfires

The White House solved the first problem by firing Chairman John Ulinski and creating a vacancy. Ulinski promptly went home to Buffalo, N.Y., took over Democrat Steven Pankow's campaign for mayor and roundly defeated the Republican candidate.

Meanwhile, the White House simply ignored the 1909 treaty and appointed Lawyer Golan to fill the engineering post—regardless of the treaty. All this meanwhile upset New York GOP politicians who had their eye on Ulinski's job on the boundary commission until Golan of Chicago slid into it by mistake.

By this time, old Senator Stanley was forewarned that the Republicans were after his job on the joint commission. Snorting defiance, he drew up a legal brief, claiming he couldn't be fired from this quasi-judicial post.

Undismayed, a host of candidates, including former Sens. Owen Brewster of Maine and Ray Willis of Indiana, were running hard for the job. The one who came out on top was Idaho's Gov. Len Jordan.

Under Idaho law, Jordan couldn't succeed himself as governor and was easting about a new job. There was always the risk that he might try for the senate, challenging Sen. Henry Dworshak in the GOP primary.

This spurred Dworshak into hustling up another job for the governor, and the joint commission chairmanship looked promising. To make it even more attractive, the White House upped the pay from $10,800, which the Democrats had paid, to $13,500.

After considerable backstage wire-tugging, Governor Jordan won the appointment last week. He was told that he could finish his term as governor and hold down the joint commission chairmanship at the same time.

Then somebody brought up the 1873 order, which prohibits a federal official from holding a state position simultaneously. Since President Grant had signed the original order, it was argued, there was no reason why President Eisenhower couldn't revoke it.

It was pointed out, however, that Ike's own treasury department had cited this same 1873 order recently to deny a customs collector appointment to Herman Grannis—on the grounds he was serving as an unpaid member of the New York harness racing commission.

The White House finally got around its embarrassment by removing Governor Jordan from the joint commission 24 hours after he was installed and holding the post open for him for another six months until his term as governor expires.

Note—Meanwhile, the 1909 treaty with Canada continues to be violated by the continued appointment of Lawyer Golan on the international boundary commission.

Entertainment Expense—?

The old subject of liquor and entertainment expenses for the State Department and U. S. embassies overseas is always good for a debate in the Senate and this year was no exception. To hide its real nature, it's called "representation money."

Sen. Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), a Quaker, a teetotaler and one of the few really sincere advocates of economy in the Senate, led off this year by proposing to cut the fund from $500,000 to $300,000.

"We should not try to float our foreign relations in a sea of champagne," he said. "We should try to bring about simplicity in the lives of our government officials at home and abroad."

Senators of both parties jumped on him. Sen. William Knowland (R., Calif.) said the charge that this fund was for the mutual inebriation of our foreign service was unfair. Sen. J. William Fulbright (D., Ark.) said that if the government didn't provide for this, the U. S. diplomats abroad would have to pay it out of their own pockets.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.) pointed out that the money was used to entertain congressmen when they went abroad.

Sen. Edward J. Thye (R., Minn.) cited statements by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles himself that in trying to economize by staying at a hotel in Geneva instead of renting a villa, and by cutting down on entertainment, he had lost many chances to hold informal meetings with foreign statesmen where the real work of these conferences was accomplished.

Ike and GOP Will Be Judged On Their Overall Record

By Bruce Bessant

President Eisenhower is understandably concerned with the fate of his legislative program. He is a constructive-minded man, and he wants positive accomplishments to take to the voters this fall.

Every day that goes by without expeditious action makes it more likely that some items in the program will fall away in the final reckoning. Congressional leaders now talk of adjourning the 83rd Congress on July 31. Even if it should stretch out to Aug. 15, the pressure of appropriations bills will tend to crowd out some measures.

The most important domestic measures are in the field of housing, social security extension, farm supports and tax revision.

The big tax reform bill seems sure of passage, as does widening of social security. Controversy over public housing features, however, may produce a final proposal much weaker than the President seeks.

Mr. Eisenhower's wish for a flexible farm price support system could produce a bitter floor struggle. The House Agriculture Committee already has approved continuance of high rigid supports. Should the full House or Senate or both follow this course, and the President veto the proposal, much time might be consumed on the question whether to override his veto.

The President already has given up the fight for 1954 on his liberal foreign trade program. He is settling for a one-year extension of the existing Reciprocal Trade Act, and should get it without much trouble. The House has passed the bill, and the Senate can be expected to go along.

The size of foreign aid to Europe and Asia is always a matter for some debate, but with luck Congress might get through this one without too much loss of time.

Mr. Eisenhower has lost out on revision of Taft Hartley, on important foreign trade changes, apparently on statehood for Hawaii (fatally linked with Alaska by the Senate), apparently on much of his housing demands. He will get less than he wants on health measures and certain other welfare proposals.

What happens to his farm plans may do a lot to give the final coloring to his 1953-54 record of legislative accomplishments.

Let us suppose the worst, that he gets no more than now seems likely, that he loses on the farm issue.

Will this really determine the fate of the Republican Party at the polls next November?

One man quickly acknowledges that the legislative story will play a role in voters' decisions, without agreeing that it will make the whole case for or against, or even the biggest part.

The people judge a party, and their President, as governing instruments. What congress achieves in a particular two-year period could be a minor element in the story. They may be much more affected by the way a government executes foreign policy, plans defense, controls internal subversion.

Mr. Eisenhower is wise to stress constructive legislative acts. But he and his party will be weighed in a context far wider than the boundaries of Capitol Hill.

Severe Headaches Present Diagnoses Difficulties

By Edwin F. Jordan, M. D.

Few of us escape the experience of having a severe headache though some certainly suffer much more than others. The only good thing which can be said about a severe headache is that one forgets it almost at once; although I have had my share I cannot remember just exactly when each and every headache occurred nor how long it lasted.

There are several kinds of recurring headaches. Some of them are brought on by emotional upsets, others are labeled migraine, and in still others additional causes are recognized.

It is now felt, however, that most headaches are associated with changes in the circulation of the blood vessels in the brain, though the cause of such changes may differ from one person to another.

If the headaches are largely on one side migraine is probably, a condition the origin of which is still somewhat shrouded in obscurity. So far as remedies for migraine are concerned, there are drugs available which often can shorten or bring to halt an attack if they are given at the earliest possible moment. These drugs, however, are powerful, and are not without danger, so they should be taken only under careful supervision.

Severe or repeated headaches are often difficult to diagnose. The complete history of the attacks, the kind and location of pain, and the preceding symptoms, if any, must be studied.

The physician who tries to discover the cause must know the circumstances under which the pain first developed, whether it came on gradually or suddenly, whether it was constant or irregular, how long it lasted, what part of the head was involved, and similar facts. In addition to this, he must know whether nervous tension was present before the beginning of the headache.

A complete physical examination is desirable. The sinuses need to be eliminated as a cause and the eyes also. Special tests may have to be made in order to find out whether the headaches come from local relaxation of the blood vessels.

The treatment of any type of severe headache involves two steps. The first is to try to relieve the immediate difficulty as rapidly as possible. Some kinds of headaches, especially the so-called "billious" type, can often be relieved by simple pain-killing drugs, like aspirin. The more severe varieties may go on in spite of drug treatment.

The second step is to try to identify the cause or at least the physical or emotional factors which tend to bring on the headaches. If this can be done the frequency of the headaches often can be greatly lessened.

Hal Boyle's Column—

Death Rides the Highways Over July 4th Weekend

Editor's Note — The National Safety Council forecasts a record number of deaths over the 4th of July weekend. In the interest of a safe and sane holiday, we are reissuing the following column which was widely praised by safety officials last year.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Death got up early this morning.

As America began to celebrate the long Independence Day weekend, Death promptly went on over-time.

For when mankind has a holiday for any reason, Death can know no idleness. He must tabulate a great human self-slaughter.

And so it was Death rose early today. He had a lot to do in the busy days ahead. He had many a mortal rendezvous to keep on highways and byways, in homes and saloons, on pond and pavement, on mountain cliff and summer playground.

For Death had a double duty. He had not only his usual job to do, the escorting of the sick and old and life-worn across his pale frontier. He had his extra holiday clients to attend to. The lost battalion of the needless dead.

On such days as these, Death, the fair weather friend of the foolish, initiates new members into the D.O.A. club. This club has no dues and no life memberships. It is made up of unseeing holiday victims who are brought to hospitals and tagged with a card bearing three initials that stand for "dead on arrival."

Yes, Death got up early this morning. For by next Monday night there are hundreds of Americans he must meet and wave to their doom—a D.O.A. tag. The potential membership crop was large and the land was wide, and Death is conscientious. He didn't want anyone who earned that tag to miss it.

Wherever Americans set out to celebrate the holiday, this skeletal comrade of the stupid and careless went right along for the fun. And here is what he will say to some, or perhaps is already saying even now:

In 10,000 cars rounding 10,000 curves, he whispers to the driver: "Go on and pass that car ahead of you. Never mind what your wife is saying. What makes her think there might be another car coming around the bend toward you anyway? Wives are always worrying about something."

But on some of the curves another car does come around the bend. There is a scream and a crash of metal. And Death says to the silent husband, "So long, sucker." And he says to the silent wife, "You'll never have to live with another fool, dear." Then he walks over to the silent, huddled driver of the second car and says, "Pal, I know you didn't want to join our organization, but I am only taking membership, and this other guy nominated you. And now you belong."

Or Death puts his arm around a teen-age high school driver and says, "Faster, kid, faster. Boy, you're real hot rodder. Sure, you can see clear in the moonlight. Let's see how close you can come to that bridge abutment."

A moment later the boy's ribs are in his lungs, blood drowns his whimpers, and Death tags him and says, "You know, I almost thought you'd make it. Well, even counting the funeral costs, I still saved your folks more than the $5,000 they'd put away for your college education."

And somewhere a mother at a picnic, busy fixing the lunch, is sure someone else in the family is keeping an eye on the child who toddles toward the lakefront. And, sure enough, someone is. "Come in, little boy," says Death from the water. "I will catch you, and your mother will never forget you again. See the pretty tag I have for you?"

An overweight man of 45 with a fading heart calls across the tennis court to his son, "Junior, I'll beat you this fifth set or drop dead."

And as he wearily lifts his racket, Death taps him and says, "Drop." Death waits on a darkened porch as a little girl in a filmy dress sneaks out with a sparkler in her hand. "Go ahead and light the sparkler all by yourself," coaxes Death. "You're a big girl now."

When the screams fade into silence, Death hurries to a room where a holiday-lonely man, sick with self-pity, looks at the gun in his hand and mutters, "Wouldn't be any more lonely dead?" And Death, writing his tag, says, "Well, come and see."

So Death will move at a ceaseless pace today, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, playing his deadly game of tag across all America with the holiday risk-takers and their victims. And the foolish, the unwary. Wherever he pauses an ambulance will follow, halt, pick up a still burden and race with it to a hospital where it will get the epithet:

D.O.A.—dead on arrival."

hold and put everything I had into the first leverage. I held Milo got his face too close. He didn't try to bridge, arching on the back of his head and turning, which he should have done, and I began to feel sorry for him. I thought I was chopping him in half and expected every second to feel a pat on the thigh to signal that he'd had enough.

By this time, my legs were so straight that Milo's belly should have been touching his backbone, which would have been a painful state of affairs for someone a lot thinner than he was. I looked increased the pressure, then put on, using a straight arm when over to make sure he hadn't fainted or something, but there he was, relaxed and peaceful, a smile on his lips, his soft brown eyes looking at me. "Is good," he said, with that hissing sound on the "s." "Is good. Milo teach rattle."

Slowly I could feel his belly tighten and grow hard, although he showed no sign of strain. Little by little my legs were pulled apart, until I couldn't keep the hold any longer without breaking a toe. You have to wrestle, I guess to know how impossible it is to get out of good body scissors only by the strength of your belly muscles, but Milo did it.

THEN I realized that all the time he had been simply letting me play around with him, that he could have torn me to pieces without the least effort, and I felt pretty silly. "Is enough?" he asked, and I said I guessed it was. "Tomorrow me teach. Show rattle."

"Not tomorrow," I said. "I have a date."

He made a face. "Women! Is bad. No good for rattle. S'day?" "Okay," I said. "Saturday is a busy day at the supermarket, but I'll be here at the same time."

He nodded, and we had another shower and dressed. I told him he could leave his things in my locker, but he shook his head and wrapped them in the same his address and telephone number on it. Yet, the other night he left the glove in the dugout and when he went back after it, it was gone.

Billy Ray is mighty unhappy. He needs that baseball glove—after all how is he going to climb to baseball fame when he has to keep looking for baseball gloves? And this time he is afraid he isn't going to be so lucky, baseball gloves cost too much money. He sure would be grateful to anyone who finds his baseball glove if he would just let him know, because a nine year old boy doesn't have much chance to make money enough to buy another for a baseball glove must have good sportsmanship and people with that just wouldn't want to keep another baseball player's glove.—H. A YOUNG MAN working in the Democrat office was discussing his coming marriage with fellow workers, especially his honeymoon trip. "We're heading South to where I don't know, or for how long," he remarked.

"Why don't you go north where it's cool?" he was asked. His reply was, "I'll be going north to Camp McCoy in about three weeks, so we'll go south."

The young man was been driving his car up to the annual National Guard encampment each year, so he was queried, "Are you going to take your car along this year?", to which he replied with a defeatist attitude, "Well, I was."

Cigarette Smokers Puff At Warnings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Most of the country's cigarette smokers still are puffing away—though apparently with some restraining anxieties—despite medical reports the habit might hasten their death.

This was the situation indicated today by checks with tobacco wholesalers and retailers in more than a score of major cities across the nation.

Most of them said they had detected no change in cigarette sales since an American Cancer Society report 10 days ago that average cigarette users 50 to 70 die sooner, mainly of heart attacks or cancer.

"Smokers seem generally complacent about it," said a San Francisco wholesaler. "They figure why worry when the hydrogen bomb is liable to snuff out their lives anyhow someday."

However, there were some reports of sales drops, amounting to as much as 25 per cent, along with other signs some smokers were disturbed. A change to filter-tipped cigarettes was a wide trend.

Among 75 sources, some of them representing chains with hundreds of outlets, 52 said cigarette sales had remained unchanged, 15 reported slumps, usually slight, and 7 reported sales increases.

"The scare has just switched them around to filter cigarettes," said a Dallas wholesaler. "We also sell more pipes than ever before, but there's no real decline in cigarette sales."

"People just fuss, raise hell, buy pipes and then go right back to cigarettes."

The survey gave no general evidence of a big run on chewing tobacco, cigars, snuff or pipes as a substitute for cigarettes.

Distributors in Washington, D.C., reported:

"The demand for pipes, pipe tobacco and cigars has risen slightly."

Indications of a switch was to filter-tipped, long cigarettes came from dealers in nearly every city. "More filtered smokes are offsetting any loss in sale of regular brands," said wholesalers in Raleigh, N.C.

Cigarette holders also were getting popular.

Said one of Connecticut's largest retailers:

"We've sold more filter-type cigarette holders during the past year than in the history of the company. People are looking for all kinds of ways to continue smoking to avoid any harmful effects."

Many sources said it was too soon to gauge the effects of the latest medical report accurately.

"Dealers are imagining all sorts of things, from boom to bust, before the statistics are in," said a spokesman for the National Assn. of Tobacco Distributors, which includes 3,033 wholesalers.

"Actually, it will be impossible to determine reliably what the ef-

Library Has International Relations Books Available

Extension Clubs plan one program a year on international relations. Many other groups and individuals use materials on the Boonlick Regional Library can provide good books, magazine articles and films in this field.

A very graphic program may be had by the use of 16mm sound film, many of which are in color. During June and July "Desert Nomads", a 20 minute film on French Morocco is available. "Panama" and "The Brotherhood of Man" are also on the subject. During July and August "Jerusalem, the Holy City" and "America Sails the Seas" are available. In August and September "Java" and "Mexican Children" are on other countries. Films available in September and October include "Rome, City Eternal" and "South Pacific Island Children". All of these and others are free for the use of groups in the Boonlick Library area.

There are many books of interest to women about women in other lands. Princess Ilena's "I Live Again", Santha Rama Rau's "East of Home" and Matsuo's "Daughter of the Pacific" are written strictly from a feminine point of view. Rumanian Princess Ilena tells of the changes in her life and the contrasts in Rumania and the United States.

Effects are, if any, until the middle of July.

"The report has probably created a flash-in-the-pan reaction," said an Albany, N. Y., wholesaler. "But the public will resume normal smoking as people have done after other such scare reports."

Said a Dallas Secretary: "I might as well die happy."

America. "East of Home" is the life of an Indian girl who was educated in America and who has gone home to India to live. "Daughter of the Pacific" has a background of Japan, Formosa and Singapore. Each book contains the simple little illustrations and incidents so dear to any woman's heart.

Demaret, Sarazen On US British Open List

SOUTHPORT, England, July 3 (P)—Jimmy Demaret and Jim Turnesa, a pair of U. S. Ryder Cup players, head a nine-man challenge from the United States in the five-day British Open golf tournament which begins here Monday.

Demaret, he of the flashy dress and smile, took a practice trip over the 6,844-yard seaside Royal Birkdale links and said "this is a great championship course. Just perfect. A real test. If you stray off the fairways you are in real trouble because of the rough and the weather."

Mayer Takes Lead in Motor City Open Golf

Demaret is rated as a 121-betting choice to replace Ben Hogan as the British Open champion as the weary Texan, is not defending his title. Turnesa also is a 121 shot.

Bobby Locke, the South African who spends much of his time in other parts of the world, is the 3-1 favorite. He held the title in 1949, 1950, and 1952 and has been in this area for the past 10 days playing beautiful golf.

While the British are pleased that nine Americans are listed among the 229 starters from 15 different countries they are disappointed that Hogan is not among them.

What a pity peerless Ben is not coming again," sighed Eddie Hamilton of Scotland. "But he said he would not return because he felt his health would not stand the strain. But Ben's absence means one thing—it is an open open now."

In addition to Demaret and Turnesa the U. S. contingent includes Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, who twice has been runnerup in the past; Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., the 1932 champion who this week won the first international veteran's title; Tony Penna of Cincinnati; Al Watrous of Detroit; Sean Meany of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Tom Hull of Sappington, Mo.

The betting fraternity has made Peter Thomson of Australia, and Antonio Cedeno of Argentina, who tied for second behind Hogan a year ago, co-favorites behind Locke at 10-1. Then come Demaret and Turnesa. Dai Rees of Wales and Fred Daly also are at 12-1. Doug Bachli, who recently became the first Australian ever to win the British Amateur crown, is entered and also is drawing some attention.

Among the contestants is Henry Cotton, Britain's 47-year-old golfing maestro. A year ago he indicated he was withdrawing from competitive golf but won a major professional tourney in May. He has won the open crown three times, in 1934, 1937 and 1948.

In addition to Cotton, Locke and Sarazen there are four other former champions—Daly in 1947, Alf Padgham in 1936, Arthur Havers in 1923 and Max Faulkner in 1951.

The purse has been increased to $9,450 and first place now will bring the winner $2,100. This is mere pocket change for the Americans but the title pays off handsomely in prestige.

The huge field will be split for Monday and Tuesday's qualifying play. Half the field will play the Royal Birkdale links the first day and the neighboring 6,413 yard Hillside course the next. The other half reverses the procedure. Only the lowest 100 will play 18 holes over Royal Birkdale Wednesday.

Richards Clinches His 2nd US AAU Decathlon, Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 3 (P)—The Rev. Bob Richards clinched his second annual International AAU decathlon championship today soaring to a world decathlon record of 15 feet in the pole vault amidst the rumble of thunder and against a backdrop of jagged lightning streaks.

The 28-year-old Olympic and national pole vaulting king broke his own decathlon vault record of 14 feet, 11 1/2 inches. He set that standard last May in Pasadena when he won the South Pacific AAU decathlon crown. Prior to that, the record was 14 feet, 8 1/2 inches which Richards established when he captured the national decathlon for the first time in 1951.

Fourth going into the vault, the eighth event on this two-day program at Bader Field, the Los Angeles A.C. representative collected a bumper harvest of 1,122 points to take over first for keeps.

He wound up with 6,501 points, better than the 6,456 he amassed last year when he finished second to Milt Campbell. Campbell did not defend his crown because of an elbow injury.

Richards followed his mighty leap with a second best in the javelin, 166 feet, 7 inches, and then jogged the 1,500 meters—final event of the day—in 5:26.3.

The runnerup position went to Aubrey Lewis muscular 19-year-old Montclair, N. J. high school graduate, with 6,118 points. Rafer Johnson, an 18-year-old schoolboy whiz from Kingsburg, Calif., was third with 5,874.

All-Star Poll Near Climax

CHICAGO, July 3 (P)—The annual poll for the all-star baseball game at Cleveland July 13 neared a climax tonight. Final results of the poll, which picks the American and National League starting lineups, except the pitchers, will be announced Sunday night.

Ted Kluszcwsky, Cincinnati Redlegs first baseman, and Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn left fielder, went into the lead at the respective positions in the National Circuit as late voting sent the total ballots up to 3,488,025. Kluszcwsky won the starting assignment last year.

Kluszcwsky, 29, topped Gil Hodges, Brooklyn Dodger first baseman, by 28,211 votes in the latest returns. Kluszcwsky now has 1,012,527 votes to 984,316 for Hodges.

Robinson moved into the lead in left field with 1,025,736 votes, displacing Ralph Kiner of the Chicago Cubs by 39,534. Kiner had 986,202.

Latin American ballots are aiding Chicago White Sox for starting Bobby Avila of the Cleveland Indians and Chico Carrasquel of the Chicago White Sox for starting assignments in the American League. Sports Scraps

(By D. Kelly Scruton)

LAST Sunday I remarked about the flies in Liberty Park and offered a suggestion to the Sedalia Park Board about spraying, fogging or something to try to cut down the population. I want it understood I was not taking any personal "cracks" about any member of the Park Board, it was merely what I thought constructive criticism.

I understand the Board took exceptions to the suggestion inasmuch as their employees at the parks had been spraying the picnic tables and trash barrels. I am sorry they felt this way, but as a matter of fact the flies were very annoying to those endeavoring to enjoy the picnic area.

The Board however is trying, and I will give them credit, to go about it in a manner which would help. They are consulting with Merle Vaughn, County Extension agent, and have been spraying to the best of their ability with what they have got, but now have engaged someone with equipment to try their luck in exterminating the pests.

I agree with a lot of people that spraying alone in the park will not be the solution. It will help, but it's not the solution. There is an area where the weeds are growing and need to be cut. Then too, a general spraying throughout the city is necessary to do battle against insects, flies and what have you.

A well taken suggestion was also offered. If the people who use the picnic area will be considered of others and clean up their own messes after their parties and put it in the trash barrels, this will help the Park Board in their endeavors.

So let's get together and encourage a city-wide spraying campaign that will do good for everybody.

PEABODY, Mass., July 3 (P)—The ever-amazing Babe Zaharias, told 15 months ago she might never play again, climaxed one of the most stirring comebacks in sports today when she won her third women's National Open golf championship by 12 strokes.

Front running all the way but tiring at the end of the final day's 36-hole grind, the tall, sinewy daughter of Texas finished with rounds of 73 and 75 for a total score of 291.

None other in the fancy feminine field came close to cracking 300 for the three days over the exhausting 6,393-yard Salem Country Club course.

It was the Babe's tournament from the moment she posted an even par 72 on opening day until she hacked out of the woods on the final hole, threw her hat high in the air and exclaimed:

"Thank goodness, it's over. I couldn't have gone another hole. But it's the answer to my prayers."

The premier American woman athlete, Olympic gold medalist and a star in many sports, was struck down by cancer in the spring of 1953 and it was thought her brilliant career might be at an end.

"Just told the Lord to let me play again and I'd take care of the winning," the Babe, vet-eyed, said after her victory today. "Today we sealed the bargain."

Unheralded Betty Hicks of Durham, N. C., the 1941 National Amateur champion before turning pro, wound up in second place—never a serious contender—with 303. She had 75 and 77 for her final 36 holes.

Serious Louis Suggs of Atlanta, a two-time winner of this event and long one of the Babe's keenest rivals, followed at 307.

INGLEWOOD, Calif., July 3 (P)—Kentucky Derby champion Dedmore suffered defeat and a fearful blow to his prestige today when an outsider, Fault Free, won the $55,900 Westerner before 45,500 astonished fans at Hollywood Park.

Jockey Ralph Neves brought Fault Free in first in a photo finish over Allied, the stablemate of Dedmore. Determine, the little gray charger, was third.

Andrew C. Colvin's supposedly unbeatable entry of Determine and Allied went into the mile and a quarter holiday fixture as a prohibitive favorite.

But it was left for the lesser light, Allied, to try to save the day and fail, and Fault Free, a Kentucky colt owned by Mrs. A. W. Ryan of California, to hit the wire first.

TV Mat Stars To Wrestle At California

A wrestling card seldom equalled in Central Missouri will be presented Thursday, July 3, at the California, Mo., fairgrounds. Nationally known television wrestling stars will appear.

The matches, which will be sponsored by the California Lions Club, will feature a hometown boy who has made good on an international scale, and who has wrestled in Sedalia on numerous occasions. The Club has signed big Ray Eckert, 6 feet 2 inches and 245 pounds, who in recent years has battled his way to stardom and today is rated as one of matdom's top heavy weight champions, and Lou Thresh's greatest threat. He holds a 90 minute draw against the swarthy Hungarian-American title holder.

Eckert will meet Lou Leo Johnathan, 6 feet 7 inch 275 pound youngster of 22, who is currently one of the hottest heavyweight prospects seen on television today. The two mat mammoths will vie for two falls out of three, with a 60 minute curfew riding on the match.

A special supporting bout will send Chris Zahararas, the colorful "Cryin' Greek" from Cripple Creek, and one of matdom's craftiest ring generals, against Cyclone Anya, hot-tempered Latin American who currently ranks high on the list of heavyweight title contenders. This bout calls for two falls out of three with a 45 minute time limit.

Tickets may be secured by writing the California Lions Club. Proceeds are used by the Club to finance its work with the blind, and is providing a summer recreation program for children.

Present Holiday Speed Bill Sunday At Marshall Oval

What promises to be the season's outstanding program is on tap for sports fans Sunday night at Sportsman's Speedway, Marshall, presents its holiday speed bill on July 4th.

The usual program of midget auto races will be presented, but the management and racing officials have set up two additional events, neither of which have been seen in this part of the country. The fast-moving midget pilots will be seen in two separate 25-lap feature races, one following the other after a brief breather for cars and drivers. However, in the second 25-lapper, the driver who wins the first will start in the rear of the field, and the last place man in the first will be on the pole for the second.

Since this procedure presents an inverted start in a 25-lap race, and since no tire or gear changes will be permitted, the action in the second race is expected to outdo even the best of the programs previously presented.

A special novelty event, never before attempted with racing cars, and announced only as a "Three-legged race" will also be included in the holiday bill.

Although prices will not be increased, the management has upped the prize money for the event, and the largest—and fastest—field of the season is expected to participate.

Time trials are set for 7:30, with races at 8:00 on the fast Sportsman's quarter-mile. The speedway is located on highway 240, one mile east of the Marshall city limits.

Larson Takes Win In Marshall Stock Car Feature Race

The season's largest stock car crowd saw Judd Larson, apparently outclassed in the earlier events, romp home ahead in the 50-lap stock car feature race at Sportsman's Speedway, Marshall, Thursday night.

For the first 25 laps, Pistol Gunn, Moberly, ran a red hot second, but dropped back and was finally eliminated entirely with a blown radiator hose. Junior Howser, winner of three straight mains before this week, started his move about the half way mark, but started late, and was less than three car lengths behind Larson at the finish. Scotty Scovill and Torch Aleshire battled it out for third and fourth, and Orval Surls came in for fifth money.

Scovill, who set the fastest time, also took the trophy dash, in a real thriller. Harold Cromley stayed out front to nail the first heat, over Gene Johnson and Chet Dooley, another Marshallite. Aleshire looked like the man to beat in the feature, as he ran off and hid from the rest of the competition.

Joe Walthers started out front in the 15-lap consolation event, as Long John Pitt grabbed second spot from Wyatt Hill with less than a lap left. A 27-car field filled the track with spins and crashes, two cars bouncing off the backstretch bank in the feature, but no injuries resulted.

The Summaries:
Best Time—Scovill—21.6.
Trophy Dash—5 laps—Scovill, Larson, Gunn—1:48.0.
First Heat, 10 laps—Cromley, Johnson, Dooley—No time.

Industrial League Adco, Mo. Public Service Win Games At Housel Friday

Industrial League games Friday night found Missouri Public Service defeating the National Guard 11-6, and the Adco Blues winning from the Jaycees 7-6.

In the first contest, Schultz hit two home runs to lead the 11-hit attack for the winning Missouri Public Service. National Guard's hitting star was Schmitt, who had a homer.

The second game of the evening was a real thriller. The Adco Blues trailed the Jaycees the entire contest until the last batter in the ninth. Higgins stepped to the plate and blasted a homer with one on to give a winning margin. Charles Stockstill, the losing pitcher for the Jaycees, gave up five hits before he was relieved by Bob Wall, who allowed two hits, one of them Higgins' homer.

For the first six innings, the Jaycees were on the winning side, 6-0, but the fighting Adco Blues, with a barrage of hits, caught the Jaycees. Bogutski was the big hitter for the losers with three hits for four trips to the plate. Sterling was the winning hurler for Adco.

Connolly Wins Wimbledon As Third Straight

WIMBLEDON, England, July 3 (AP)—American women tennis players swept every Wimbledon title available to them this rainy, soggy day which only seemed to emphasize the sorry record of the American men.

The only title taken outright or shared by a U. S. male was in mixed doubles—where he got help from a girl.

Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., won her third straight singles championship, defeating Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5. Then Miss Brough and Mrs. Margaret Dupont of Wilmington, Del., combined to defeat Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, and Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., for the women's doubles title, 4-6, 9-7, 6-3.

In contrast, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati showed little as they lost in the men's doubles to a pair of grim unsmiling Australians, Rex Hartwig and Mervyn Rose, 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

Seixas, singles winner here a year ago, had another of those bad days that have plagued him ever since. The ease by which the Australians won would indicate the Davis Cup is soft for Australia another year at least.

On Friday Jaroslav Drobny, the wandering Czech, defeated Kan Rosewall, another Australian, in four sets for the men's singles crown. It was only the second time since 1946 that a men's Wimbledon final had been played without involving an American.

Moberly, Boonville Meet in Playoff at Boonville Tuesday

MOBERLY, July 3 (AP)—The Moberly Miners and the Boonville Lions meet in a playoff game Tuesday night at Boonville to decide the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League's hectic first half pennant race.

Moberly blasted Brookfield, 23 to 4, last night to finish in a dead heat with the Boonville club. Both teams won 10 of their 12 games.

Because of the playoff, it will be necessary to change the date of the league all-star game from Wednesday to Friday night.

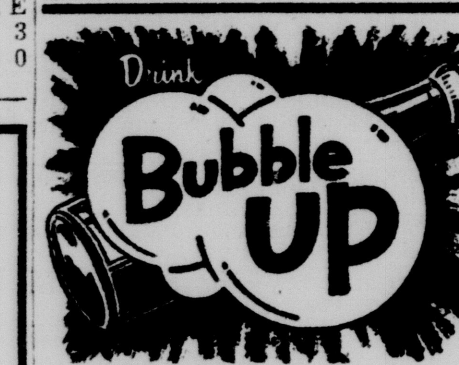

The winner of the first half pennant is slated to meet an all-star crew chosen by team managers. Site of the game will depend on the winner of the first half pennant.

Col. Barrowclough Is New Wing Deputy Commander

Col. Robert I. Barrowclough is the new 340th Bomb Wing deputy commander under Col. A. J. Beck, who took command of the Wing Friday at ceremonies held on the large apron of the Sedalia Air Force Base. Col. Barrowclough was until recently in French Morocco, North Africa, where he was commander of the Ben Guerir AFB for the past two years.

Col. Barrowclough recently completed a transition school in Wichita in the B-47 jet bomber.

Prior to entry into the service in 1940, he attended the San Jose State College for three years. He received his pilot training and wings at Randolph and Kelly Fields, Tex., in 1940, and was commissioned a second lieutenant.

During World War II he spent one year on the island of Tinian in the Pacific as commander of the 421st Bombardment Squadron and flew 15 missions as pilot of a B-29. During the remainder of the war he helped with the training of B-17, B-24 and B-29 crews for the Second Air Force.

In 1945 the new Deputy Wing Commander was assigned to the 509th Bomb Wing as base air inspector and base executive officer. He was also, for a short time, commander of the First Aerial Refueling Sq. in SAC.

Before his tour in French Morocco he was deputy director of plans at Fort Worth, Tex., and commander of the 8th Air Rescue Squadron of the 309th Wing. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, Bronze Star, Air Medal, Distinguished Unit Citation with one cluster, and the Pacific Campaign Ribbon with six stars.

Col. Barrowclough, his wife, Doris, and their two children, Bobby, nine, and Lynn, five, are residing at the base.

Ernest Kabler Has Spud Vine Growing Potatoes Above Soil

Ernest Kabler, 412 East Saline, is a city farmer, but he was always under the impression that potatoes grew beneath the ground. He has been growing them for a good many years and that was always where he found his spuds. But, with all these new fangled ideas in farming, which he hasn't kept up on very well, this perhaps just a new type of potato.

It was last February that he planted his potato patch, Irish Cobblers, he thought, and the other day he went out to dig them. The potato vines were all brown except one, and when he came to that one which was still green he saw it had little potatoes all over the vine.

Maybe the potato thought it was a tomato with all the 30 odd little green tomato-looking balls over it. He dug down into the ground. No, it was really a potato plant because there in the ground were just as many potatoes as there were on the vines.

The little potato plant wasn't mixed up as to what kind of a vine it was, it was just mixed up. That Irish Cobbler had so many potatoes that it just didn't have room for them all under the ground, so they just started coming out all over it.

Dyed in the wool Missourians are shaking their heads, even after they had seen the potato vine with its potatoes. They still don't believe it. No, sir, not even when they are shown.

The city farmer would like to know if such things are common with the modern country farmer. Do potatoes grow on the vines now days or do they still grow under the ground?—Or maybe, like this Irish Cobbler, both?

Picnic in Honor Of Harrymans

By Mrs. Leonard Phifer

WINDSOR — Rev. and Mrs. George T. Harryman, Mary Elaine and George Jr., Raytown, were visitors in Windsor during the weekend and a picnic in their honor was given at the Windsor park Saturday evening. A large number enjoyed being with these friends and it was impossible for many to be there because of their work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Watson and Joey, and Mrs. Robert Garrett, Kay and Paul, LaDue, joined the group.

The Rev. Harryman was pastor of the Baptist Church here for three years. Even though it was the last day of his vacation, he consented to bring the message from his former pulpit Sunday night. After the service he and his family returned to Raytown where he is pastor of the Baptist Church.

The monthly meeting of the Euzelean Circle of the Windsor Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Hughes. The devotional and lesson on the subject, "Proclaiming the Saviour in Formosa," were given by Mrs. Sara Goff. She was assisted by several members of the circle. The offering of the month was added to the fund for the recreational project being sponsored by the Brotherhood. There were 15 members present.

Refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour.

The Florence Harris Circle of the Windsor Baptist Church held the June meeting in the home of Mrs. R. L. Irvine with 12 members and two guests present.

After the regular business meeting Mrs. Irvine gave the devotional, scripture and lesson on "Formosa." Members participated by giving questions and answers. The committee reported that six calls had been made on new families in town inviting them to Sunday school, church services and circle meetings.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Friday morning, Mrs. Ernest Martin, when opening a can of coffee, cut her left hand so badly it necessitated taking four stitches

Living Moves Outdoors for the Summer Season

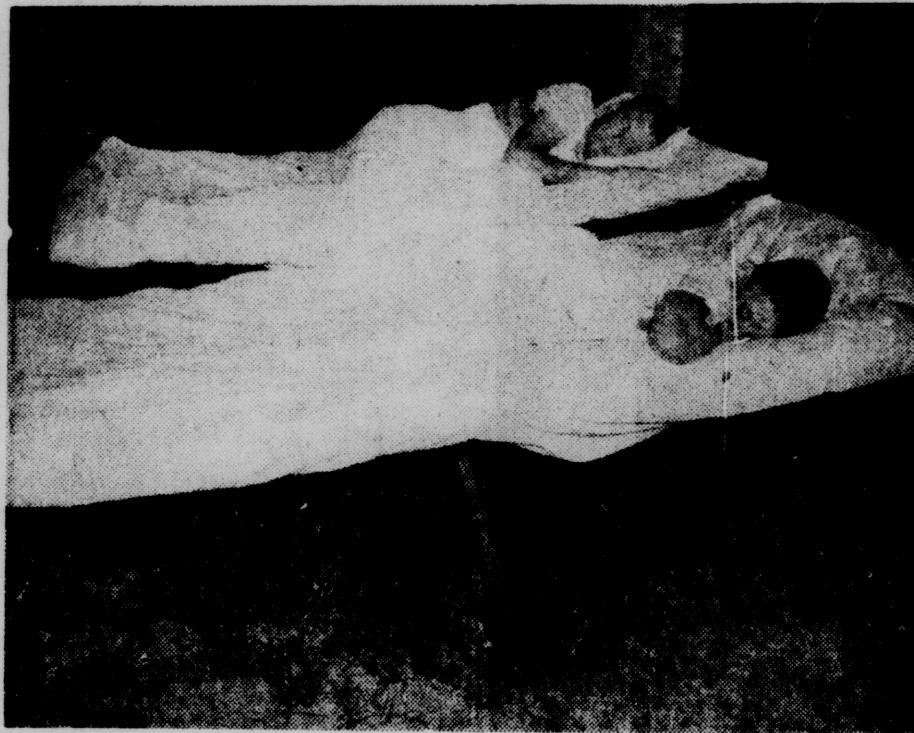

Sedilians, Like Most Americans, Make Their Yards Into Living Rooms, Kitchens, Even Bedrooms When Old Sol Begins to Boil
And the Furniture Makers—and Husbands—Show Real Ingenuity in Making Chairs, Tables, Beds and Other Lawn Equipment

SECTION TWO

EATING (above) seems to be the favorite pastime of the younger folks, especially during summer vacation time. Here, Connie, Ginger and Chris Chapman munch hot dogs, beans and trimmings which had been prepared for their back yard picnic.

SITTING (above)—This shows the manner by which Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Muller and family beat the heat and enjoy life in their yard. Seated (first row, left to right) Sara Jane Muller, the family's collie dog, "Lucky," Richard Volpp, a nephew of route 4, Sedalia, and Danny Muller. Second row, Mrs. Muller, Mrs. Don Anderson, Mr. Muller's Mother, Mrs. Adolph Muller, Hooper, Neb., and Mr. Muller.

SLEEPING (above) is a favorite retreat from the heat in the summertime, as is most amply displayed by Tony Burton and his father, Bill. Being true outdoorsmen, these two prefer their backyard for sleep over the hotter choice, the house.

COOKING (at right) is lots of fun for C. J. Chapman, who fixes hot dogs on his portable barbecue pit for the kiddies. He still feels that cooking is for the ladies, but the pain seems to be relieved in the backyard, while bedecked in his chef's cap and apron.

Days of Two-Seated Swings and Barrel-Stave Hammocks Gone...Backyard Pools Next

Life in the great outdoors—and where are American people finding it? Why right in their own back yards.

Yards today have become beauty spots of flowers, shrubs and trees, and more people are moving out during the hot months to their outdoor living room — yes, and outdoor dining room and bedroom, too.

There was a time when outdoor living for grownups practically didn't exist. If it did they sat in uncomfortable lawn swings and when the other person or persons in the swing wanted to sway back and forth you swayed with them or got out of the swing. The boards got hard, the swing creaked, you had to sit straight up. If swinging made you sick, you were out of luck.

When the sun moved you couldn't, the mosquitoes chewed on you and the extent of refreshments in the yard would probably be a glass of lemonade.

The hammock was a little better, that is if it was made of netting or canvas instead of barrel staves, the ends tied securely to trees or posts. But sometimes the hammocks were not tight enough, the trees were too close together, the hammock sagged in the middle and so did you until your knees almost touched your chin.

But, if the hammock was stretched out, you could stretch out, too, and looked at the blue sky above you or snooze away, if the flies would let you.

But that was yesterday. Today is different.

No longer are the dining room chairs carted out in the yard and you and your guests wonder whether the heat inside the house could be any worse than the hardness of the chairs.

Every yard today has lawn chairs and they are of every conceivable type. Metal chairs of all colors, and each year the manufacturers seem to study the lines that would make these metal chairs more comfortable. They are replacing the white wooden furniture that was popular a few years ago and was the only type of lawn furniture when outdoor living first became popular. The metal chairs are easier to move, they are easier to keep clean and they are more sturdy.

With outdoor living came the thought of comfort. After all, you can't stretch out in a chair, be it metal or wooden, so the idea of the chaise longue chair, with all its comforts, was brought outdoors, with innerspring cushions covered with material that can be easily washed.

Wrought iron and canvas are combined for chairs, metal chairs are made into rockers, there are canvas reclining chairs, yacht chairs, folding chairs of all types, aluminum, canvas and wood or metal, and other types that may be quickly put up for guests. There are contour chairs and, yes, even the old fashioned hammock on a strong iron frame. You may sit or lie down in any position you desire in comfort in your own back yard.

But outdoor living doesn't stop there. Eating has moved outdoors, too.

Mom just doesn't intend to stay in the kitchen and cook while the rest of the family takes it easy in the yard. No, indeed. She has moved her kitchen outdoors. She has an outdoor oven, that is, if she has been able to get her hubby to build one.

That seems to be a little problem. Husbands are so exacting when it comes to building outdoor ovens. They can't decide on just what type of oven to build and they change their minds about them every few days or, that is, every time the wife suggests that she would like him to build that oven. There is always a little trouble, it seems, in being able to get this and that, and then the oven must be built by a blueprint.

The women always wonder. Somehow, the only time their husbands get very enthusiastic over outdoor ovens is in midwinter when the snow is on the ground and the ice is on the trees, a time when they can dream of summer and the outdoor oven, but it is too cold to get out and build it.

But, if the man lacks the energy to build one, he could at least buy one. They come all set up.

An outdoor oven is often better than something a little better for the woman of the household than just a place to cook. There is something about an outdoor oven that often stirs the culinary art in the soul of man. It might look silly, he thinks, if he should cook in the kitchen, and maybe the wife doesn't encourage such ideas, feeling that it would be much easier to cook that to clean up the kitchen.

But out in the yard, he can really strut his stuff. He is certain that there is no one who can cook food that melts in the mouth as well as he can—and often he does his white cape and apron and shows his wife and their friends who can really cook.

There are barbecue pits in the yards, too, and in case the family has no outdoor fireplace, there are always the little charcoal affairs that can be brought out.

Serving in the yard is done in great style these days. There are cocktail tables, the tables that match the other outdoor furniture, the little individual tables, the regular picnic tables with benches on each side, the tables with colorful umbrellas, and if there are not enough tables, always the card tables can be put up.

There are magazine racks that are placed beside the chairs. In fact, nothing is left out in outdoor living and entertaining.

As the days get hotter and the nights don't seem to cool off much, even the bedrooms move outside. Cots are put up in the yard and the family moves out to get a good night's rest under the stars.

There may even be tents put up. That is always a thrill for the youngsters, sleeping in a tent. But father likes to sleep out in the open. Now and then he might be a little unhappy when an unexpected summer shower catches him while he is deep in slumber, but that doesn't happen too often.

The rich have gone a little farther. They have put their swimming pools in their back yards, but that hasn't happened much in this vicinity for two reasons: first, most of us don't have enough money to build a swimming pool, and, second, we don't have a yard big enough to put it in. But that will come, just as the ovens, the chaise chairs, and all other outdoor comforts have come. Right now the swimming pools are confined to tiny ones for the youngster, but some day father is going to feel that he just can't get along without a swimming pool in his back yard.

And so, Sedilians, like all

Americans, are moving outside for the summer and many will spend their Fourth of July holidays right in their own back yard, just relaxing. Maybe there will be some friends invited in, but the main idea of life is to live it in ease and comfort and that is what the back yard, the side yard, the popular patios offer. And what about the flies and mosquitoes—they don't bother a bit, a good spray and they disappear. So day or night, the summer home is right in your own back yard, the most restful place in the world. It's a good place to spend the holidays, or even a vacation.

Miss Kirschner, Kenneth Smith Recently Wed

Miss Norma Jeanne Kirschner, daughter of Mrs. J. G. W. Kirschner, Kansas City, formerly of Green Ridge, became the bride of Mr. Kenneth E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ira Smith, Sedalia, at 3 p.m. June 26 at the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church. The double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. D. Warren Neal of Sedalia, assisted by the Rev. Lewis A. Dunlap, Green Ridge, before an altar setting of large pedestal baskets of summer flowers, a lovely white arrangement on the piano and two seven branch candelabra holding white tapers.

Mrs. Marilyn M. Green, Smith-ton, played the nuptial music at the piano as the guests assembled. She accompanied Mrs. Al Dominique, Sedalia, cousin of the bridegroom, who sang, "Oh, Perfect Love" and at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride's attendants, all of Green Ridge, were: Miss Drue Schreff, maid of honor, wearing a pale green net over tulle, ballerina length dress with matching bandeau; Mrs. Dale Ray, matron of honor, who wore a yellow net over tulle, ballerina length dress with matching bandeau; and Misses Janet Case and Fredmude Fiene, who wore dresses of pastel shades of lilac with matching net stoles. The latter two carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white shasta daisies while the maid and matron of honor carried colonial bouquets of green and white shasta daisies.

Before a background of Japanese sumac blossoms and summer flowers, Miss Merrill Mae Hofstetter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hofstetter, Fortuna, exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Donald L. Bookout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Bookout, of Tipton, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, June 27, on the lawn of the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. George Igo, pastor of the Christian Church at Tipton, performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Zora Charles, Tipton, at the piano, played the wedding music and accompanied Mr. Don David Charles, Tipton, who sang, "Bless This House" and "O, Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her street length dress was of white nylon with scattered blue flowers and was fashioned with fluted white panel in front, snugly fitted bodice which buttoned to the waistline, and was finished with a Peter Pan collar. Her flowers were pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Bill Eckelberry Jr., Hamilton, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of pink orlon with tucked fitted bodice and her flowers were pink and white carnations.

Mr. Charles E. Bookout, Tipton, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Mr. Delbert Hofstetter, Fortuna, cousin of the bride, was an usher.

The mothers of both the bride and bridegroom wore in dresses of navy blue shade with white accessories and their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony with guests numbering 40. On the bride's table was the three tier wedding cake with miniature bride and bridegroom, the crystal punch bowl, and a center-

Hal Boyle's Column—

Boom in Old Firearms Comes In Price, Not From Barrels

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—There is a big boom now in old firearms—and some rifles are literally worth their weight in gold.

"Firearm values have gone up fantastically," said John T. Amber of Chicago, editor of "The Gun Digest."

"There are over 500,000 weapon collectors in America. The number has grown tremendously since the war."

Amber, a former reporter who became one of the nation's top hunters and riflemen, has a collection himself of some 75 pistols and 600 rifles.

What rifle could be worth its weight in gold? It is a specially marked Winchester 1873 model, sometimes called "the rifle that won the West."

"Some 700,000 of these rifles were sold, and an ordinary one in average condition today brings only $25 to $50," said Amber. "But the company put out about 150, shown by factory testing to be exceptionally accurate, and marked them on the barrel—'one out of a thousand.'"

"Only about 35 of these rifles are known to have survived, and each is worth from $5,000 to $7,500."

One of the drawbacks of Amber's life as a collector is that he once had one of these rifles himself, but 15 years ago sold it for $75 before its value and rarity were known.

Bargains the beginning collector should beware of, he said, are "the pair of pistols supposedly used in the Hamilton-Burr duel, and guns that once belonged to Jesse James or Wild Bill Hickock."

"If all the guns supposed to have been owned by Jesse James were genuine, he had an arsenal bigger than the U.S. arsenal."

Miss Mary Hurlbut Reports On Mission Work in Africa

Miss Mary W. Hurlbut, former Sedalian, who is a missionary to Missos do Elende, Cuma, via Lobito, Angola, West Africa, has written another interesting letter telling of her work there.

Miss Hurlbut, sister of William E. Hurlbut Jr., 211 West Seventh, is a member of the Federated Congregational - Presbyterian Church, and has been a missionary in West Africa for a number of years.

Her letter follows:

"It is a long time since I got a letter off to you. These have been very busy months. School opened April 1st with a larger enrollment than last year. Our dormitories are overcrowded, but it is hard to turn pupils away, especially when they come two or three days' journey on foot, and when there is no other place where they can get an education. Next year we will have to raise the standard for entrance to the station school, but even so we are not likely to have fewer students than this year. Because of the large number of students, we have had to find more teachers, and have had to put one class in the Assembly Hall. The Colonial Board of Education required us to get the matriculation papers in earlier than usual, and that adds to the work, as we not only have to get them in for the station school but for eight schools in the pastorate centers, where we have over 1000 pupils enrolled. These papers have to be made out in triplicate, and as the forms are eighteen inches wide, they have to be done by hand which takes a lot of time. I hope that at last they are all in."

"The first weekend in May marked the passing of another milestone in the life of the Elende Church. We ordained two young men, who had just finished the theological seminary. They will take over the extreme north and south parts of our senior pastor's area. Sr. Paulino Gongu has a heart condition and the doctors have forbidden his riding a wheel, and as his area was too large to visit effectively they decided to divide it. The two new pastors are Sr. Paulo Toloco and Sr. Rufino Ucumu. Sr. Paulo, in his life story, told how he had not wanted to come to the mission school. The mission school inspector had persuaded his father that he should continue his schooling. He had heard that there were sometimes earthquakes in the mountain back of the mission, so he prayed that there would be such a big one that it would destroy the buildings, and he could go home. But later he was glad that his prayer wasn't answered."

"The Sunday morning service, where the ordination took place, had to be held outdoors, as the church was too small to hold the crowd. Dr. McDowell has a small loud speaker that can be used with a car battery and this made it possible for everyone to hear. Each pastor was presented with a bicycle, which some of our extra gifts made possible. Now on the sites chosen for the new pastorate centers, the people from the Christian villages are coming to make adobe for the house of the pastor and the church. As soon as they are dry, the walls will go up. This part is not hard for them. Where they find it difficult, is to find money for timber for doors, windows and roof, and for tiles. Some of our gifts will help them in this way."

"The day after the ordination, we got our boys off to Currie Institute. A number of the new boys were able to go because of your gifts for scholarships. Pastor Vanhale had three sons ready for the institute, but he could never have financed it alone. Two others who were orphans were helped, as well as some others. They will make good leaders when they finish their education. We, as well as they, want to thank you for your help."

"Last weekend the deaconesses came in with the gifts from the Women's Day of Prayer. One of two came by train, and one was lucky enough to find a truck coming her way, which saved her five days on foot, but most of them had to walk, with their babies on their backs, and their clothes in a field basket or box on their heads. Some had only a day's walk, but many had from two to five days on foot each way."

"The Sunday morning service was led by them, and Miss Marie Crosby from the Dondi Hospital came down and gave the sermon. Their gifts were presented and dedicated at that service. They totaled almost $400, with one portion still to be heard from. They decided to divide it among the following projects:

"1. Home Mission Work of the Umbundu churches in the Fishers, where many contract laborers are working. Many of them are from our churches."

"2. Toward the support of Jose Liahuca, our student in Portugal."

"3. To help in the building of the new pastoral centers."

"4. To the British and Foreign Bible Society, which prints our Bibles."

"5. Tuberculosis Camp at the Dondi Hospital, where several of our people are getting treatment."

"6. To help the poor in the various areas."

"7. Toward more communion cups."

"Next month Jose Liahuca will be taking his final exams in the completion of his high school course. The exams will be from June 20th to 27th. I hope that you will be praying for him, that he will not get nervous, but do well. He will be examined in all the courses he has taken in the last two years. The examining board will be chosen by the State Board of Education and will probably be from other schools. The written exams will be made up by the Board of Education and sent in sealed packages to the examining board."

"I hope that you will forgive me if I am not able to arrange pen pals for the young people. I may be able to get some of our missionaries children to do it but I am not sure. As our people do not know English, it would mean that I would have to translate all of their letters for the children here, and all of our children's letters for them, and there just isn't time and strength enough for that. It is a good idea where the people know English."

"The City Hall will be closed Monday, all day, and there will not be a garbage collection that day. The city officials are observing Monday as the Independence Day holiday."

4-H Round-Up

By Jim Perry
Assistant County Agent

Today I would like to begin this column by passing on to you an excerpt from a letter by Robert S. Clough, state 4-H club agent. This letter was written to all county extension agents and is as follows:

"Dear County Extension Agents—You have done the best job of (1) selecting delegates, (2) briefing delegates or both that has been done in the nine years we have been having Club Week. This was the most attentive, most responsive, best behaved and withal the most satisfactory delegation that we have ever had. This in no way reflects on previous delegations. A kind of progress that we should continually make. We do, however, want to commend you for the 1954 delegation."

"It isn't for us to thank you for your help in conducting 4-H Club Week because it is as much your 4-H Club Week as it is ours. We are highly appreciative of your cooperation. Everything moved along very smoothly. Very truly yours, Robert S. Clough, State Club Agent."

The behavior and participation of 4-Hers at club week is a compliment to our members, their parents and leaders.

The fine job of selecting this delegation from Pettis County can be credited to the Pettis County Farm Bureau Rural Youth Committee. They selected the delegation from applications submitted by members interested in going. Serving on this committee are: Mrs. Paul Read (chairman), Mrs. W. L. Hayes, Raymond Kahrs, Mrs. J. T. Edmundson, Frances Mergen and Mrs. Robert Longan.

Two 4-H Girls Honored At State Club Week
Eileen Bahner, Striped College 4-H, and Jo Ann Nicholson, Hillview 4-H, were selected to take an active part in club week activities. Eileen Bahner was chosen by the candle lighting ceremony committee to be one of the two "Health" representatives in the candle lighting ceremony.

Jo Ann Nicholson was nominated for Secretary on the White ticket. She received the second highest number of votes in the primary election. However, the straight 4-H council officers, this election is handed exactly as county and state elections from the primary through the actual election. Its purpose is to acquaint boys and girls with standard election procedures and help prepare them for citizenship.

Six or Seven?
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Virginia General Assembly left a puzzle for state officials. It fixed the mileage reimbursement for state employees at seven cents per mile in a special act. But the appropriation act states it shall not exceed six. Furthermore the appropriation act repeats all acts in conflict with it. Officials wonder what was the legislative intent.

Expect Profit Figures Like Those of '53

NEW YORK (AP)—Bookkeepers are touting their profit and loss figures today for American industry's first six months. The chances look fairly good that as a whole business will have earned about as much in the nervous six months just ended as it did in 1953's cocky first half year.

First indications of this are given today by some companies with off-beat fiscal years. These are the ones whose first six-month periods closed in May or April, instead of June 30, as with most corporations. Reports of most industrial companies will be coming in volume until the end of the month.

Banks, however, will be reporting over the coming weekend. Most are expected to show income equal or surpassing a year ago. Interest rates were easing during the period, but the banks had a lot of money to invest and returns from their securities will sweeten their statements.

Some 22 of the industrial companies with off-beat fiscal years have reported. Fourteen, or two third of them, did better this year in net earnings after taxes than they did in the similar six months a year earlier.

But among the eight with lower profits this year was the one really big company in the lot. This rubber firm reflects the troubles of some companies in the auto industry this year. These customers of the rubber company weren't buying as many tires for original equipment, so the rubber firm's profits dropped three million dollars from the year before.

Without the rubber company, the other 21 corporations would have turned in a collective report card 7 per cent better than last year's.

Hubbard Park Plans All Day Events on 5th

All day long Monday, July 5, Hubbard Park will be a place of activity with fun for everyone and plenty to eat.

This will be the second annual Fourth of July picnic at the park, sponsored by the North Side Citizens Association, and there will be sizzling chicken, fish and hot dogs available all through the day. The park board has offered $25 for contests and these will include a sack race and swimming contests in the park pool.

Free lemonade for the kiddies is something the youngsters are looking forward to and the North Side Citizens Association, providing the drink, is expected to have lots of it on hand.

There will also be free dancing at the shelter house.

General chairman of the picnic this year is Wilson Foster, who expects the crowd to be as large as last year and the occasion just as gay.

Dept. Store Sales Up 8 Per Cent in 1954

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week were up 8 per cent, as compared with the corresponding period a year ago.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis attributed the gain in part to the sale of seasonal items as a result of hot weather.

Louisville, Ky., reporting a decline of 1 per cent, was the only district city not showing a gain. The sales increase elsewhere averaged 10 per cent in the St. Louis area, 11 1/2 per cent at Little Rock Ark., and 7 per cent in Memphis, Tenn., and eight smaller cities.

District sales for the four weeks that ended Saturday and for the year to date were 4 per cent under those for the corresponding periods in 1953.

Gold, copper, tin, platinum, hard and soft coal, marble gypsum and limestone, all are mineral resources to be found in Alaska.

Seventh in Series on City Government—

City Officials Tell of Their Work

Police Judge, Sanitary Officer, Building Inspector, Weighmaster Poundmaster, Assessor, Dairy Inspector, Meat Inspector And Mayor's Secretary Explain Their Work

At a recent meeting of the city administration, each officer gave a resume of his, or her, work in order to acquaint each member of the city's official family with the full workings of the government. These reports are being published by The Democrat and The Capital to let the public, too, understand the functions of the various officials.

Several of the reports follow:

By B. L. Weinrich Police Judge
"My first duty as police judge of Sedalia, is to see that every defendant who comes before me has a fair trial. Also, it is my duty to keep a correct record of all cases coming before me, showing names, charges, arresting officers, the amount of fine assessed, if fine is paid, or whether a stay is given and reasons for giving stay, if fine is delinquent, or defendant is committed to jail (show date of commitment)."

"I also sign all informations filed, warrants, subpoenas, and bonds, and keep a case book showing disposal of all cases where information has been filed. I must turn a typed report over to the city clerk showing number of cases handled and amount of fines collected during each month."

"All money collected is turned over to chief of police who, in turn, hands it to the city clerk at the end of each month."

By Charley Simon Sanitary Officer
"Duties of restaurant, license and sanitary officer:

"Concerning eating and drinking establishments, City Ordinance No. 4192 calls for two inspections a year. The last year there have been four complete inspections made in the 82 eating places. Our eating and drinking places now have the approved sanitary rating from the Bureau of Food and Drug, Missouri Division of Health."

The license inspector's duties include collecting of merchant licenses, cigarette and restaurant permits, and collecting licenses from out of town firms that sell merchandise direct from their trucks."

The sanitary officer's duties are many, but the basic duty is the checking into the hazards which govern the health of the community. His duties also include the operation of Hospital No. 2, garbage collection, incinerator plant and the operation of the disposal grounds."

By L. W. Dickman Building Inspector
"I am building, electrical and gasoline inspector."

"It is my duty to administer these and other related ordinances and also to meet with the zoning board of adjustment."

"In addition to this, it is my duty and desire to work with any member of the administration or any citizen on any matter in which I might be of help."

By D. E. Mahoney Weighmaster
"It is the duty of the weighmaster to weigh all trucks or any thing else that might be brought to the city scales to be weighed."

"The weighmaster is custodian of the city gasoline pump located in the city scales. He orders the gasoline when it is needed. He also keeps a record of all gasoline used in the city trucks and police cars."

"The weighmaster is in charge of the city parking lot adjacent to the City Hall and he collects for all parking in this lot."

"The weighmaster makes a report once a month to the City Council and the mayor and turns in the money collected during that month to the city clerk."

By Clarence Weathers Poundmaster
"The duties of the poundmaster are to see that the ordinances regulating animals in Sedalia are enforced, as well as those laws and ordinances concerning the licensing of dogs. It is my duty to see that the owner of dogs purchase licenses for them and to answer all calls where the complaint or question is connected with any animal."

"I am also in charge of the city pound and must see that the dogs impounded there are cared for until disposed of."

By J. W. Watts City Assessor
"As you know the office of city assessor is an elective office and it is the duty and responsibility of the city assessor to levy taxes on real and personal property within the limit of the City of Sedalia."

"These assessments must be placed on proper form and turned over to the city collector. Also these assessments must be in agreement with the county assessments."

"The city assessor also sits on the board of equalization and appeal and has a vote on any question pertaining to property within the city of Sedalia."

By Dr. M. E. Gouge City Dairy Inspector
"The duties of the dairy inspector can be summed up in simple words: 'See that the people of Sedalia get good wholesome milk.'"

"The State Division of Health has a standard ordinance which they recommend to the cities. Our city has adopted this ordinance, and it is my duty to see that all dairies and pasteurization plants meet the requirements of these regulations."

"At present I have three pasteurization plants to meet the requirements of these regulations, and 58 grade-A dairies in a radius of 35 miles around Sedalia under my supervision."

"The ordinance requires one visit each six months to each dairy and they are visited much more often than this to see that sanitary requirements are being carried out to the fullest extent."

"Eight samples from each dairy are required to be taken for a bacteria test each year. Usually 10 to 12 are taken and each dairy must keep his bacteria count below the maximum, or lose his grade 'A' rating."

"In addition, all milk from the plants and dairies sold retail or wholesale in Sedalia is tested regularly for bacteria, butterfat, B. Coli, and a phosphate test to see if the milk has been properly pasteurized."

"An inspector from the State Division of Health makes an inspection of our plants and dairies annually. We must meet their standard of grading in order to remain on the grade A list and be permitted to sell grade A milk, which is the only grade permitted to be sold in Sedalia."

By Evelyn Harnsberger Secretary to the Mayor
"I am secretary to the mayor, which duties are typing the records of the City Council for permanent record, and receive many complaints which are given to the department heads, who in turn complete them. They are recorded in a book showing when completed and by whom. This book is open to the councilmen in the mayor's office at all times."

By Dr. Marvin L. Crutcher City Meat Inspector
"The primary duty of the meat inspector is to see that the animal products which are processed in the packing plants are in a healthy condition before and after they are killed."

"It is also of vital importance in the handling of animal foods, being prepared for human consumption to see that the plants are in a clean and sanitary condition, and that the employees of the plant are in good health."

"It is necessary to see that the foods are packaged properly, labeled correctly and, where various ingredients are used, that these ingredients be clearly readable and stamped on the package."

"Many things are obviously necessary in the inspection of food products. It is necessary to know: (1) the source of the meat; (2) how the meat is produced, prepared and conserved; (3) decisions arise involving the disposal of condemned meat; (4) abnormal conditions and diseases of food-producing animals; (5) post mortem changes of meat; (6) sanitation in packing plants."

"In summary, it is the duty of the meat inspector to see that the animals prepared for food are free from diseases of any kind, that they are prepared in a clean and sanitary plant, and that, after processing, the prepared food is packed and handled properly in order to protect the consumer."

"As a rule a large proportion of the stock sold at the stock markets is slaughtered at the same place. Therefore, it is advantageous to connect the stockyards directly to the packing plants."

By W. C. Davis City Engineer
The city engineer is appointed by and is under the supervision of the mayor and the City Council. As city engineer, I am section-head of the streets, alley and sewer system, being responsible for all plans, specifications and materials of all types that enter into the construction and maintenance of the streets and sewers. Coordination between the street and sewer sections is also a responsibility of this office."

Recommendations are submitted to the mayor and City Council for performance of all city work. Maintenance of equipment used in the city work is another responsibility of this position."

All current surveys are maintained and a complete record of all surveys are kept and old records renewed as necessary to coordinate with the current records."

Technical advice is furnished, when needed, to the mayor and City Council. The city engineer and city clerk are furnished information pertaining to the coordination of their work in connection with the engineer's work."

Complaints concerning any of the above sections are received in this office. Complete records are maintained on all complaints, as well as disposition made on each complaint."

Work being performed on contract is checked prior to actual completion. All contracts are also reviewed."

Any engineering problems arising between the road district and the city are also handled through this office."

All plans and specifications for constructing or repairing the streets and sewers are submitted to the Mayor and the City Council for approval prior to actual work being done. At the present time, a complete study is being made by this office of the drainage system throughout the City for use in future construction."
